

International Conference on Food Security, 2024 at National Institute of Public Policy, NSPP, Lahore, Pakistan

Call for Papers

Conference: August 19-20, 2024

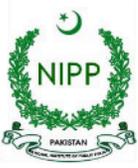

Abstract Deadline: May 13, 2024

National Institute of Public Policy (NIPP) is pleased to announce a call for papers for its second conference, which will be held at the National School of Public Policy (NSPP), Lahore, Pakistan on August 19-20, 2024. NIPP is a premier research organization entrusted with the task of advancing the objectives of the National School of Public Policy (NSPP), and dedicated to multidisciplinary research on public policy, focused principally on the areas of governance, government and Public/Civil service. The ultimate aim and purpose of the NIPP is to serve as a research institute for the Federal Government on matters of Public Policy and to advise the Federal Government on such policy matters.

The Conference Committee welcomes abstracts and papers relating to all aspects of Food Security from around the globe and for all periods. NIPP values inclusion and welcomes applications from scholars/researchers from all backgrounds.

About this year's conference

Food Security, a critical policy concern globally and in Pakistan, is facing unprecedented challenges. Rising inflation, geopolitical uncertainties, and climate vulnerabilities have amplified the urgency to explore innovative solutions for ensuring access to affordable, nutritious food. This conference aims to delve into these challenges, fostering a nuanced understanding and proposing sustainable strategies.

Themes for Paper Submissions: We invite Food Security researchers, policy makers and practitioners to contribute papers addressing the following themes:

- Emergence of Food Security as a Major Non-Traditional Security Threat in Pakistan
